Mafeking Claims to Be Able to Hold
Out Until June—Friends of Cecil
Rhodes Alarmed Over His Fate
Should He Be Captured By the Boers—2,000 British Soldiers Lost
In the Desert In Zululand.

London, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—No news has come from Modder river, and it is understood that all messages from there have been stopped. Military authorities think it is likely that the Modder river engagement has begun.

An official dispatch from Chiefley dated Feb. 13, says: "Dundonald with 700 troops, visited the high ground which the enemy was in the habit of occupying. He was found to have left but returned later with reinforcements. Capt. Hardean met the Boers at Rustenberg; we reinforced him and the Boers retired. Capt. Russell and five men were wounded in an encounter, and Lieut. Pilkington and six men captured."

The above dispatch does not indicate whether Dundonald had a fight with the Boers nor who returned to the high ground. A dispatch from Durban yesterday saying that the British had forced the Boers to retire from Hlangwane, southeast of Colenso and the highest point in that vicinity, may have some reference to Dundonald's reconnaissance.

An undated dispatch from Mafeking says: "Food lasting well. We are able to hold out until June."

Troops For South Africa.
Southampton, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—Three thousand troops embarked here today for South Africa.

Warning to Irishmen.
Dublin, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—A quantity of green posters are being circulated here today headed "England's Robber War" and containing an address to "Irish Catholics signed 'Father Cavanagh,'" which notifies Irishmen who enlist in the British army that they will lose their souls.

Brought to British Wounded.
Pietmaritzburg, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—An ambulance train brought in ninety-five British wounded. Six wounded officers came here yesterday. Several wounded Boers were also on the train. They spoke in the highest terms of their treatment at British hands. One of them said that the Irish brigade fighting with the Boers was with Gen. Cronje at Modder River. It was further learned that in the recent dynamite explosion at Johannesburg some seventy men were killed.

Robert's Advance Has Begun.
London, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—Gen. Roberts' advance has begun. Reporting from Siet river under date of Feb. 13, he says: "Col. Hanney commanding a brigade of mounted infantry marching from Orange river to Randam, had a slight engagement on Feb. 11 with the Boers."

Fate of Cecil Rhodes.
London, Feb. 14.—The friends of Cecil Rhodes are becoming alarmed at his possible fate, and have sent an emissary to see Dr. Leyds, the diplomatic agent of the Boers in Europe, in regard to the probable course the Boers would pursue in the event of his capture. Dr. Leyds assured the intermediaries that the Boers did not intend to kill Mr. Rhodes, but, he added, they would certainly hold him as a hostage until the indemnity for the Jameson raid was paid. In view of the developments since the raid the Boers have also decided to double the amount of the indemnity demanded, so Mr. Rhodes' friends will have to hand over £2,000,000 ($10,000,000) before he is released.

In Rags and Dying of Hunger.
Brussels, Feb. 14.—Le Petit Bleu, in correspondence from Pretoria, publishes an extraordinary account of 2,000 British soldiers, who it is said by the writer arrived toward the end of December last during the retreat from Dundee at the river Muputa, the boundary between Swaziland and Portuguese territory. According to the narrative they had lost their way and wandered for weeks in Zululand, arriving shoeless, in rags and dying of hunger. Those soldiers, the correspondent says, were thought to have been shut up with Sir George White in Ladysmith.

RENSBURG IS IN GREAT PERIL
British Ability to Hold That Town Is Very Much Doubtful

London, Feb. 14.—Although the war office announces that no further news had been received there from South Africa for publication the censor allowed several dispatches to come through reporting severe fighting in the Colesberg neighborhood, which ended in the British withdrawing their advanced position, which had been won by arduous work during the past six weeks.

The chief of these positions, Colekop, is higher than any of the surrounding hills, and the British guns there have been described as dominating the Boer positions. Now the Boers have mounted a forty-pounder at Bastard's neck, whence by excellent shooting, sometimes at 9,000 yards, they seem to have somewhat easily compelled the British to retire from one post after another.

Battle Lasted Two Days.
One correspondent reports that the fighting lasted almost incessantly for two days, and declares that the losses of the Boers, who outnumbered the British five to one, were very great. Their Cresson gun west of Slingersfontein was smashed by a British howitzer, but the result was not affected by this, and the imperial forces have fallen back to Rensburg, chafing at their disappointment.

The reports concur in declaring that the Boers in the vicinity have been greatly re-enforced lately from several points, especially Magerfontein, and it is said that they are directed by Col. Viljoen, the French officer who is alleged to have planned much of the Boer campaign.

It is impossible in the absence of more definite information to indicate the significance of the British withdrawal, but it may prove that the concentration that Gen. Lord Roberts seems to have made at Modder river has been accompanied by a weakening of the forces at Colesberg, and that the Boers are taking advantage of this to resume the offensive, compelling the British to concentrate at Rensburg.

Silence Regarding Roberts.
Silence is maintained concerning Gen. Roberts' doings, but the foreign military attaches have left Cape Town to join him and there are other indications that a movement by him will not be long delayed. The reported seizure of Zoutpan's drift is assumed to be connected with Gen. Roberts' movement.

It seems that the army in Natal is at present inactive. Gen. Buller is apparently at Chiefley, and several of the correspondents, expecting a lull in the operations, have gone to Durban to recuperate.

There is no further news from Modder river or Gen. Buller's forces at Tugela. Considerable activity is reported from Rensburg.

Rensburg in Danger.
A telegram received by the Daily Mail states that the condition of affairs is serious at Rensburg, the headquarters of Gen. French's operations. The Boers drove in the British outposts there on Feb. 10, and were driven out by the British, but the Boers again re-occupied the outposts last night. There has been severe fighting, with heavy losses on both sides. The Mail's correspondent expresses doubt as to the ability of the British to hold the town.

Dispatches from Rensburg, Cape Colony, dated Feb. 13, say that all the British positions to the westward of Rensburg, including Coles kop, have been abandoned on account of the pressure of a large Boer force with heavy guns.

The British have abandoned Slingersfontein and fallen back on Rensburg. This move was made because the Boers were threatening the British eastern flank.

HAVE MADE PARCEL POST ARRANGEMENT

England and the United States Will Enter an Agreement—London
Mourning Fad.

London, Feb. 14.—The Postmaster General of England announces the parcel post arrangement between England and the United States will soon be complete, after a correspondence that has extended over fourteen years.

The big cloth mills at Grandholm are much behind on their orders for khaki to be used for soldiers' uniforms. To show her sympathy for the widow of Major Dannedanne, who was killed at Elandslaagte, Queen Victoria yesterday stood by proxy as godmother to her child, which was born three days after that officer's death.

The wearing of mourning is London's latest society fad. Even though without relatives at the front all the fashionable men affect mourning bands on their hats and some go the extreme of wearing a band on the arm. No up-to-date society woman is without a mourning gown.

Unknown Vessel Wrecked.
Falmouth, England, Feb. 14.—[Special Cablegram]—An unknown vessel is wrecked at Llanend. Life savers are unable to reach the vessel. One man can be seen in the rigging.

SENATOR STEBBINS IS IN THE RACE

CANDIDATES FOR WISCONSIN
GOVERNORSHIP ACTIVE.

Party Chiefs Assemble—Meeting of the State Central Committee At Milwaukee
Attracting Many Politicians—
H. C. Payne Does Not Want to Be National Committeeman.

Milwaukee, Feb. 14.—Though the republican state central committee meeting is called for today the hotels were almost bare of politicians yesterday. Ira B. Bradford, one of the two avowed candidates for governor, and J. B. Treat, chairman of the state central committee, were the only politicians who came early.

Last evening, however, the circle of politicians was widened by the arrival of Senator Stebbins, who was accompanied by two of his lieutenants, Assemblyman Overbeck and M. T. Parker of Algoma; Colonel Hoyt Winslow of Fond du Lac; George A. Buckstaff of Oshkosh, and James A. Monahan of Darlington, internal revenue collector for the western district, and others.

H. C. Adams, the dairy and food commissioner, who has been spoken of in connection with the chairmanship of the state central committee and also for governor, was at the Pfister. He made light of the talk connecting his name with the nomination for the head of the ticket.

Mr. Bradford said his prospects made him feel confident. He said that he would have the seventh district solid or nearly so; would have a small bunch of delegates from the ninth and tenth district and scattering supports from other parts of the state.

Senator Stebbins' Report

It is noticeable in connection with the candidacy of Senator Stebbins of Algoma that his supporters are in the main those who were the most active in furthering the chances of Isaac Stephenson for Senator last winter. Assemblyman Soltwedel, who was of the number, was around the hotels today putting in work here and there for the man from the lake shore district.

Senator Stebbins, when asked if he was in the gubernatorial fight to stay, replied: "You bet I am. If I live I shall be in until the convention is over." On the subject of his chances Mr. Stebbins had little to say, though Messrs. Overbeck and Parker insisted that he had just as good a chance as anyone so far mentioned for the head of the ticket.

Treat Willing to Stay In

Chairman Treat said today that if the party wanted him as chairman of the state central committee he was willing to serve another two years. This would seem to settle the question of the coming chairman, as Mr. Treat has been satisfactory to all factions of the party.

It is looked upon as settled that the state central committee at its meeting today will decide to include the election of a state central committee in the business of a spring convention. The advantage of having the committee organized and ready for effective work before the nominating conventions are held is recognized in all quarters.

When the first convention is held is not a matter of too much certainty as has been thought. Several members of the committee believe that it ought not to be held until the municipal elections are out of the way, and are supported in this belief by some of the leaders of the party.

Payne is not a Candidate

Henry C. Payne, national committeeman, announced last night he would not be a candidate for reelection to the national committee, or for reelection to the national convention. It is not taken as a positive declaration by many of the politicians.

Location of State Fair.

Milwaukee will have the state fair this year, just as in former years. This announcement was made by Secretary True of the state board of agriculture at the close of the meeting this afternoon between a committee of the association and a committee from the state board. The association committee offered to raise the sum of $15,000 for the aid of the fair. This sum will be turned over to the state board of agriculture in place of a guarantee of the expenses offered by other cities which have been working to get the fair.

RESOLUTIONS TO BOYCOTT TRUSTS

Anti-Trust Conference Will Also Ostracize All Persons Connected With the Trusts.

Chicago, Feb. 14.—[Special Telegram]—The anti-trust conference today adopted a resolution pledging the members to boycott the goods controlled by the trusts and to ostracize persons connected with trusts.

There is no material change in the Chicago building trades strike. The tie up is almost complete, the contractors having failed to secure a sufficient number of non-union men. The business agents of the building trades council today took steps towards calling upon all men working for Chicago contractors throughout the United States and Canada to quit work.

RIGHT KIND OF COW FOR DAIRY METHODS

RIGHT AND WRONG WAY TO RAISE DAIRY COWS.

Creameries and Cheese Factories of Wisconsin Are Acknowledged to Be the Best In the World—President
Taylor's Address Before Badger
Dairymen at Watertown.

Watertown, Wis., Feb. 15.—[Special Telegram]—The formal session of the twenty-eighth annual convention of the Wisconsin Dairymen's Association began at Turner hall at 9:30 o'clock this morning. Last evening the hall was crowded with delegates and local people to listen to the address of welcome by Mayor Grupe and response by ex Gov. W. D. Hoard.

The session this morning was opened with the annual address by H. C. Taylor of Orfordville, Rock county, president of the association. In the opening of his address he reviewed the origin and great progress of the work of the association and continued partly as follows:

Address by President Taylor

Twenty-eight years ago this week this society was organized. I will not attempt to relate the results of its labors during these years. It was organized by progressive dairymen, and this organization has been progressive all the time. Not only has it been progressive, but it has been aggressive in all matters pertaining to the best interests of the dairyman.

If twenty-eight years ago a prophet had appeared and truthfully prophesied the work and results that have been performed and brought about by this organization up to the present time, no one would have believed it would have been possible to accomplish so much.

When a few years ago the dairy business was being run by a few unprincipled cheesemakers, this association came to the front, and one of its members drew up a bill, and that bill was passed by the Wisconsin legislature and became a law. That bill provides that it is unlawful to make filled cheese in this state.

New law was manifest in the cheese business, and while we had the cows, the cream, the milk, water and grasses, we needed better cheesemakers. The dairymen's association then came to the front with expert and competent cheesemakers, and sent them forth to visit factories all over the state and impart to the cheesemaker the very best and up-to-date methods of cheesemaking.

Now again a greater and more formidable enemy has appeared, that of bogus butter. Again our association is at work, and for the last few weeks has had its representatives before the congress of the United States, making a united and mighty effort to have congress enact a law that will put an end to the cheap butter being sold as butter.

Every dairymen in the United States and every consumer of butter is interested, and will lend his support to this bill. It is the prayer of this association that bill become a law, and yellow oleomargarine be taxed 10 cents per pound.

We need to extend a good one to the dairymen. Prices of dairy products have been steadily advancing. While this is true let us not deceive ourselves by losing sight of the fact that it costs more per pound to produce a pound of cheese or butter than it did a year ago. Cows are higher, grain and all cow food are higher, labor is higher, land has an increased valuation.

The secretary of agriculture has been diligently at work during the past year establishing a market in foreign countries for our dairy products. Special praise should be given Major H. E. Alvord, chief of the dairy division, for his untiring and statesmanlike energy displayed in establishing a market in England for American butter as such.

Dairy and Food Commission

The Dairy and Food Commission, H. C. Adams and his assistants, have done efficient work during the past year. They have been alert and active in preventing violations of the law, and it is with much pleasure that this association commends their good work in prosecuting violators of our dairy laws. This association esteems the efficiency of this commission of vital importance to the dairy interests of Wisconsin. We only regret that there is not legislation in force on this commission to more effectively prevent the great and arduous duties devolving upon this commission.

Fellow dairymen we are learning to appreciate the importance of the right kind of a cow to be employed in dairy work. All over the state the poorer and unprofitable cows are being culled and sold for meat. A dairy cow is being taught that a dairy cow should be of a high ration, a ration conducive to the highest energy and activity in dairy work. We have taken an advanced position on the proposition of feeding the dairy cow, and we are not only informed that plants rich in protein are best for milk production, but a green and succulent feed the year round is of great importance.

The cow as an individual has been studied until we are led to believe that every good dairy cow has the form peculiar to a dairy cow. Our creameries and cheese factories in Wisconsin are among the best in the world.

For this vast amount of information, for our advanced position in dairying, for our dairy intelligence and knowledge along almost every line, we as dairymen are greatly indebted to Prof. W. A. Henry and his many able co-workers for their liberal assistance rendered. They have ever been willing and eager to aid any dairymen or company of dairymen at any and all times.

Investigations of Much Value

The results of investigations and experiments made at the station have been of much value. Many of the difficult problems in dairying have been solved by station work. The splendid dairy barn and its equipments at the station farm stand as an appreciative acknowledgment on the part of the state of the valuable assistance rendered the dairy interests of our state.

Other Addresses and Papers.

After Mr. Taylor's address Prof. F. W. Wall of Madison, spoke on the "Danish System of Butter Exhibits." E. L. Aderhold and U. S. Baer followed with a report of cheese instructions.

The afternoon session began at 2 o'clock. The program was as follows:

"Experience in Breeding a Dairy Herd," C. P. Goodrich, Fort Atkinson. The way to have a profitable dairy is to breed profitable cows.

"One Way to Develop a Dairy Cow," Mrs. Addie F. Howie, Elm Grove. Mrs. Howie is one of Wisconsin's enthusiastic and successful dairymen.

"How My Cows Were Cared for and Fed," James H. Beirne, Oakfield. Mr. Beirne has cows that produce over 900 pounds of butter in twelve months.

WON'T HAVE "DARK DANCES"

Chairman White of Junior "Prom" Committee Makes Denial.

Madison, Wis., Feb. 14.—The announcement made some time ago that there would be at least one dark dance at the "Junior Prom" has caused the committee of arrangements no end of trouble, and Charles J. White, chairman of the committee said last night that there would be no "dark" dances on the program.

JOSHUA STARK IS MADE PRESIDENT

STATE BAR ASSOCIATION CLOSING SESSION AT MADISON.

Brilliant Banquet Last Night Ended a
Most Important Meeting—B. B.
Eldredge Vice President For Twelfth
District—Senator Whitehead Speaks on "State Legislation."

Madison, Wis., Feb. 14.—With a brilliant banquet in Cornelia Vilas guild hall last night the State Bar association of Wisconsin ended one of the most important annual conventions in its history.

The more important of the business transacted was the adoption of resolutions for securing an amendment to the statutes to compel three years of preparatory before candidates for admission to the profession can take the state bar examination, for the adoption of a code of ethics at the next annual meeting, for a general observance of John Marshall day next February, for the establishment of a juvenile court in Milwaukee and for the drafting of clean and compact statutes. The principal papers were by George R. Peck, on "Lincoln as a Lawyer," and S. S. Gregory, on "The Louisiana Purchase."

Over fifty of the leading lawyers of the state, outside of Madison, were present. Nearly all of the capital city lawyers and many students in the university college of law attended each session. Dean E. E. Bryant made an especially felicitous presiding officer.

Joshua Stark President

Burr W. Jones, chairman of the committee on nomination of officers for the ensuing year, reported the following names and the secretary was instructed to cast the vote of the members present for them, which he did.

President—Joshua Stark, Milwaukee.

Secretary—C. I. Haring, Milwaukee.

Treasurer—S. O. Hanks, Madison.

Each judicial district was given a vice president. The Twelfth is represented by F. Lamb of Madison was elected chairman of the membership committee, and W. W. Wight of Milwaukee chairman of the Committee on Necrology and Biography.

Whitehead on Legislation

Senator John M. Whitehead of Janesville, spoke on "State Legislation." He said that inasmuch as nearly all the bills submitted to the legislature were drawn by lawyers, the credit for good and the blame for bad legislation rested largely with the legal fraternity.

At the conclusion of his address the chair was instructed to appoint a special committee of three to submit at the next annual meeting of the association recommendations for reforms along the lines laid down by the speaker. Senator Whitehead was made chairman of this committee.

WOMEN ARE NOT AGREED.

Advocates and Opponents of Suffrage at the Capitol.

Washington, D. C., Feb. 14.—Both ends of the capitol in the vicinity of the senate select committee on woman's suffrage and the house committee on judiciary, respectively, were thronged Tuesday by women interested as participants or spectators in the hearings on pending bills granting the franchise to the gentler sex. The constituent parts of the throng of the women interested in the proceedings were the delegates to the National American Woman Suffrage association convention and a body known as "The Remonstrants," or women who are opposed to the purposes of the suffragists, and the suffragists and the anti-suffragists regarded each other with asperity. The hearing developed the fact more strikingly perhaps than ever before that women are divided very radically among themselves on the question of the franchise, and that the opponents of woman suffrage are as pronounced in their views as the suffragists are.

Des Moines, Iowa, Feb. 14.—By a unanimous vote the house committee on constitutional amendments has voted to report for passage the resolution providing for striking out the word male from the constitution, giving women the right to vote. The senate committee is ready to report, and its report is likewise expected to be favorable. The suffragists declare the resolution will pass both houses.

GREAT BRITAIN WILL NOT OBJECT

United States May Control
Nicaraguan Canal In Time of War.

RIOTING IN PORTO RICO

Appeal to Uncle Sam to Furnish a Market For Their Products.

Sugar and Tobacco Planters Reduced to Poverty and the Condition of Laborers Is Becoming Pitiful Through Inability to Obtain Employment—Army
Appropriation Bill Ready—Senator
Allison on Currency Bill—Congress
Burdened With Work.

Washington, Feb. 14.—[Special Telegram]—A rumor is afloat here today that assurances have been received by members of the foreign relations committee of the senate, from Great Britain that no objection will be raised by England to an amendment conceding the right of the United States to control the Nicaraguan canal in time of war. This would certainly insure the passage of the treaty.

Porto Rico Wants Relief.

Advices received here from Porto Rico indicate that there is a possibility of rioting on the island unless some measure is speedily adopted by congress to afford relief to the planters by furnishing a market for their product. Sugar and tobacco planters are being reduced to poverty and the condition of laborers is becoming pitiful through inability to obtain employment.

Army Appropriation Bill

The house committee on military affairs today completed the army appropriation bill. It carries $111,700,364, against $89,080,104 in the bill for the current year. The great seeming increase is accounted for by the fact that the appropriations for the current fiscal year were inadequate and the urgent deficiency bill recently passed carried a large additional appropriation for the army for the current year.

The new legislation in the bill also includes an increase of 20 per cent in the pay of enlisted men and 10 per cent for officers serving beyond the limits of the United States.

Allison on the Currency Bill

"There is no concealment, no prevarication in this bill, declared Senator Allison today in concluding his discussion of the pending currency measure. "It contains nothing," he continued, "that is not plainly written on its face. We maintain that the provision of this bill will maintain in good times and in bad times our standard of value. I say now, as my firm conviction of its truth, that the man who fails to come to its support, either because he is in favor of free coinage of silver or for some other reason, will fail of his duty to his constituents and to the country."

CONGRESS BURDENED WITH WORK

Many Measures Are Pressing—End Of Financial Bill Debate

Washington, Feb. 14.—Aside from the financial bill, which will come to a vote Thursday, there are half a dozen questions pressing for congressional consideration. All of them are urgent, and all of them more or less embarrassing. The bills providing governments for Hawaii and Puerto Rico, the Hay-Pauncefote treaty, the Nicaragua canal bill, the Spooner bill giving the president authority to establish government in the Philippines, the ship subsidy bill, and the Quay case, are all ready for consideration, and each has its friends pressing for consideration.

The financial bill was taken up in the senate Tuesday and Mr. Allison (rep., Iowa) spoke in favor of it.

In the house the senate joint resolution increasing the limit of cost of the new government printing office by $430,000 was agreed to. Mr. Payne of New York, dean of the New York delegation, announced the death of Mr. Chickering, and as a mark of respect the house adjourned.

Watching for State Papers.

Foreign embassies are always on the sharp watch for the deaths of prominent subjects of their respective countries who may possess interesting correspondence of more or less value to the state. Thus when the Countess Di Castiglione died in Paris, at the request of the Italian embassy, the French authorities placed its seal on every cupboard and drawer in her house. It is suspected that she had many interesting letters from Victor Emmanuel and Cavour, in whose empire she was during a part of the second empire, and the Italian government does not intend to let these fall into irresponsible hands.

BALL PLAYERS ARE QUIET

Local Players Not Wanting Stamps On the Managers These Days.

The local colony of professional ball players is not particularly interested in the baseball situation. Several argue with so many leagues in the field it will be hard to catch on and they are not making a rush to sign contracts. Michael Birmingham is said to be the only local player who has signed and he expects to leave for the east with the opening of spring.

RAILROAD ACCIDENT NARROWLY AVERTED

Handsome Train From St. Paul Pulled Into Janesville One Hour and a Half Late.

Timely discovery of a broken wheel by the engineer of the St. Paul Chicago limited train on the Chicago & Northwestern road, due in Janesville each evening at 7:15 o'clock, was all that averted a terrible accident last evening.

The train pulled into Janesville from the north one hour and thirty minutes late.

Twelve miles beyond Baraboo the engineer while examining his engine at a small station discovered that the main steel tire on one of the large driving wheels on the engine was just hanging on. It was all but off. The engine was at once uncoupled from the train and sidetracked. Then a message was sent to Baraboo and another engine was on the scene after an hour's delay.

Had the discovery not been made and the tire slipped off while the train was running at a high rate of speed a terrible calamity would undoubtedly have been the result. The train was well filled with through passengers to Chicago.

LA PRAIRIE

La Prairie, Feb. 13.—The chief result of the heavy recent rains are watery cellars and potato pits and washed roads. Fred Ullius and wife spent Sunday with his mother. Dr. Roberts was called last Tuesday to relieve one of T. A. Read's horses which was suffering from inflammation of the lungs. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Jones are rejoicing over the arrival of their first born, a girl. Jay Chubbuck has returned from the pinery. Mr. and Mrs. Joel Proctor spent Sunday in Turtle. Harry Finch's horse is very slowly improving. S. S. Thomas Flo Thomas and Will Gleason dined Janesville friends last Sunday. On account of the severe storm and washed out roads the dance at the hall was postponed to Saturday evening, February 17th. Smith's orchestra will furnish the music. Lunch as usual. Dancing will begin prompt at 8 o'clock. Some fine fat cattle are being driven to market. John Morton met with a slight accident last Saturday morning when returning home from the milk factory. Nothing serious resulted but a scabby nose. Mrs. Nell Sherman is in Chicago caring for her mother-in-law. Midwinter fair is stirring up all the people in this vicinity. Everyone is interested and will do their best to make it a success. Mrs. Annie Clark of Shapere, spent Friday and Saturday with her mother, Mrs. William Scott. A large delegation of young people attended the Arnold party last Friday evening. Date of the club dance Saturday evening, February 17. Smith's music. Lunch as usual. Grange will meet Friday night instead of Saturday night this week.

ORFORDVILLE

Orfordville, Feb. 13.—Miss Chessie Smiley entertained the Orfordville C. L. S. C. and friends numbering about twenty, last Friday evening. A program was rendered consisting of an essay by Celia Peterson on Cecile Chaminade, a musical composer now living in Paris; Adella Sater then gave a piano solo, the "Flatterer," by the same author; Mable Taylor read an essay on "Schuman," and J. P. Smiley furnished the music, by playing Trammere's tomboe solo. The whole program was greatly enjoyed. A delectable repast was served, after which progressive crokinole and carous occupied the rest of the evening.

THREE WAREHOUSES

MAY BE ERECTED

TOBACCO INDUSTRY GROWING IN JANESVILLE.

Jeffris Company and R. G. Merrill Talk of Building This Summer—H. S. McGiffin of Edgerton, Also Expects to Locate Here—Total of 880 Hands Now at Work.

Janesville is crowding the city of Edgerton hard these days as the leading market for leaf tobacco in the state of Wisconsin. A recent canvass of the city shows that in Janesville today there are a total of thirty-two leaf tobacco warehouses. Nineteen of these warehouses are now in operation employing a total of 880 people. The greater portion of these hands are women.

At the Edgerton warehouses the help does not exceed 1200 hands in the busiest season. Present indications are that at least three new warehouses will be erected in Janesville this summer. R. G. Merrill and the Jeffris company, both of Janesville, are contemplating the erection of two of these houses. H. S. McGiffin of Edgerton, is the other party who may favor the city with a warehouse.

The shipping facilities of Janesville offer two lines of railroads where Edgerton has but one. Help is also more plentiful in Janesville. Boarding houses are more numerous here while in Edgerton much of the help is obliged to board at farm houses at the edge of the city. This they do not like.

Two large eastern leaf tobacco firms have of late been looking over the ground here with a view to building. The latest firm to build in this city is the Jeffris company who have erected a two story and basement structure 32x112 feet. This building is occupied by Julius Marquissee of Syracuse and New York City. They are already employing 120 hands. Twenty-five of these are men. About 1000 hands will be at work here in leaf tobacco before the season is at an end.

Y. M. C. A. LECTURE COURSE

Very Fine Home Talent Entertainment Held Last Night

A large audience thoroughly enjoyed the seventh number on the Y. M. C. A. lecture course at the Y. M. C. A. auditorium last evening.

The Y. M. C. A. band was assigned three numbers on the program. The opening number was descriptive of a sleigh ride; then the overture, "William Tell" Allegro, by Rossini, and the concluding number, a description selection, "A Haunted House," by Laflerty. Miss Maud E. Ames of Clinton has a charming voice. She sang two numbers, "Thou Wondrous Youth," by Abt, and "A May Morning," by Benga. For an encore she sang "A Happy Time in Dixie".

Mrs. Janet B. Day acquitted herself acceptably in three numbers. The first was James Whitecomb Riley's "That Old Sweetheart of Mine." Later she gave the closet scene from "Hamlet," impersonating the Queen, Polonius, Ghost and Hamlet. Her last number was a scene from "David Harum."

Arthur Clark played a baritone solo with band accompaniment, "Glen Island Waltz" that won him generous applause.

The Bower City Male Quartette, consisting of E. A. Foley, first tenor; E. E. Van Pool, second tenor; H. E. Carey, first bass, and Archie Crawford, second bass, gave two selections in a satisfactory manner.

Corpulence.

Extreme corpulence is a disease. It interferes with breathing, the backing up against the diaphragm prevents the free action of the lungs and interferes with the free action of the body and limbs. High living-rich food in abundance, malt liquors in large quantities, sedentary, quiet and indolent habits lead toward corpulence. Corpulent people are generally found with an easy going disposition, and are in most cases on pretty good terms with themselves and everybody else. They are mostly of a jolly, easy going, pleasant and agreeable temperament.

LAWYERS AND THE PRESS

The report of the Committee on Legal Education of The State Bar Association, deals at some length with the relations between the attorney and the newspaper, saying, in part:

"We recognize that the function of a newspaper is to get the news and to get it by every legitimate means and as accurately as possible. We recognize how difficult, we may say how well nigh impossible, it is for the newspaper reporter to get a legal proposition or argument into the columns of his paper so that it accurately states the case, or even so that it can be recognized by the author who delivered it. The average newspaper report of a trial either creates much or creates anger, and the lawyer is sorely tempted to wish that he had himself written it so that it might be intelligible to his brethren if not to the public.

"We are not criticizing the reporter for doing his duty in gathering up the news by interview or by interview. That is a part of his calling and is carried on with enterprise and industry. Our comments are on the attorney who intentionally or good naturedly or otherwise seeks an interview, or allows himself to be interviewed, on pending litigation. In a recent case in the supreme court of a neighboring state the justice delivering the opinion thus announced his views: 'The ethics of the legal profession forbid that an attorney should advertise his talents or his skill as a shopkeeper advertises his wares.' And yet it is not an uncommon thing for many attorneys to advertise themselves in many ways by means of the public press in legal matters, quite otherwise than through the insertion of a business card in a paid advertisement. Some of the many ways consist in giving to the press a complaint or other pleading before it is put in the hands of the officer to serve, or before it is filed in the office of the clerk of the court; in announcing a threatened suit even in advance of the preparation of any papers; in being interviewed as to the object and results of pending suits or pending motions; in commenting on the decision of the court and the course to be probably pursued by appeal or otherwise, and the effect to be anticipated on the rights of the parties or others by rulings made during the course of the trial; in defending himself or his client before the bar of the public instead of at the bar of the court.

In concluding the report says: "We submit that there should be one inviolable rule for both bar and lay in professional matters. The interview must at all times find them deaf and dumb to all entreaties. The reporter must get his information from the court files and from what is said in open court. By this course the benefit and bar can assert and maintain the dignity and decorum necessary to a high professional standing. By no other course is it possible."

All of the above sounds very nice and theoretical, but let us look at the other side of the shield. The newspaper is a purveyor of information. It spends money to get information to purvey. Every line published costs money, as does also every moment's time of every reporter, editor, compositor and foreman. Time is money, also, in the newspaper office. The lawyer who gives a reporter information without ado, and without bias, not only shows the right spirit, but saves the newspaper's time and money. The newspaper recognizes the courtesy and accommodation and appreciates it fully. If this appreciation, in due time, assumes the form of a well deserved compliment, is the lawyer open to the charge of "seeking to advertise himself?" No. Nine times out of ten he will be as much surprised as anyone, and will wonder why the newspaper should treat him so kindly. The favors done the newspapers have been freely accorded—perhaps because of a personal liking for the reporter, a regard for the paper, or simply in the spirit of the golden rule—and the accommodating attorney, like enough, did not realize that he was rendering the newspaper a decidedly valuable service. Reporters and editors are human. They do not relish doing business with "chilly" or "I am holier than thou" people. The man who gives the reporter news is the best friend the reporter has on earth. The merchant appreciates the friendliness and confidence of his patrons—but no more than does the newspaper.

The lawyer is as competent to judge of the propriety of the publication of the information he may have as is the society woman, the merchant, the railroad man or the policeman. The charge that the lawyer is "seeking to advertise himself" falls of its own weight nine times out of ten. The successful lawyers are invariably honest men. The "crooked lawyer" cannot succeed. It's only a question of rope with the shyster, and he always hangs himself.

The fact that the lawyer shows kindness to the hard working reporter should not weigh against him as a "dignified attorney." He may maintain his dignity and still be willing to help others along the thorny path of life.

The same reasoning applies with equal force to physicians and other professional men—they are not necessarily selfish because they are as courteous to the reporter as they are to others. The newspaper man cannot be readily duped. His training enables him to judge between honesty and hypocrisy, and the man who seeks to "work" the newspaper always gets the cold shoulder.

Such cases are rare, however. Every newspaper has its friends and its enemies—and the latter are generally the first to cry "wolf" if the former extends the courtesy that should rule between gentlemen.

The newspaper wants the news. If the man who gives out the news be also gainer because of his kindness, well and good, but it does not follow that the motive is a selfish one. The man who is kind to the reporter is kind to everyone—and vice versa.

Therefore, here's to the man who gives us news, be he:

"Rich man, poor man, beggar man, thief, doctor, lawyer, merchant chief."

Let no man's voice be raised against him because he has along with other good qualities, kindness in his heart and common sense in his head.

INFLUENCE OF MEALTIME.

Everyday Furnishings Which Mold the Manners.

The educating influence of table appointments upon the taste and refinement of a family should not be overlooked, says Good Housekeeping. We are all better behaved in good clothes. Children will be more careful at a well dressed table. A coffee spot is so much more noticeable on a clean cloth than on a crumpled, soiled one; disorder so much more apparent if there was first immaculate order.

The table pushed against the wall, covered with a colored cloth or a dingy white one and crowded with dishes that look as if they had been thrown at it may subserve the primary end of its being, but it will never be a place where man's aesthetic nature will be nourished.

Suppose the mother who habitually sets her family down to that kind of a table should conclude some day to institute a reform. She draws the table out squarely in the middle of the room, puts on exactly even a spotless white cloth, arranges her pretty centerpiece and bowl of flowers, makes her silver and glass shining and places her dishes with the law of symmetry before her eyes, making this balance that and finding the best place for each. When the family comes in, what do you suppose they will say? Why, ten to one they will lower their voices and say, "Is somebody here?" They are not prepared for taste and beauty in the setting of the table unless there is company.

In many families this strikes at the root of the matter. The best things are reserved for "the sometime guest." Elaborate centerpieces are embroidered at a limitless sacrifice of time and eyesight and are used half a dozen times a year, and then usually at a time when children are banished from the table. Wouldn't it be better to have two or three of drawn work that could be washed at will and always look fresh and dainty? And isn't it better in general to strike a generous average and have the company things less pretentious and the everyday furnishings such as will delight the eye and educate the taste?

Injury to Sight From Sealed Glasses.

An oculist's opinion on the amount of damage that is done to the eyes of the community from negligence in the very simple matter of keeping eyeglasses and spectacles clean is quoted thus by The Householder: "I am shocked to see the number of persons, intelligent men and women, who should know better, who spend their lives behind grimy eyeglasses. Lawyers, writers, students, schoolgirls and schoolboys and eye taxers of various sorts who use glasses rarely use them clean.

"To keep the pebbles in good wearing condition they should be cleaned about once an hour. Water is not so good a cleansing agent as alcohol, and a handkerchief should give place to a piece of tissue paper. Chamolix is useful also, and either is better than the linen handkerchief.

"The amount of injury done to the world's eyesight through cloudy glasses is almost incalculable."

The Highest Tower.

The highest tower in the world is presently to be built as one of the great attractions of Buffalo during the Pan-American exposition, which is to be held in that city in 1901. It is to be 1,152 feet high, and 400 feet square at the base, and will be a much more ornamental building than the Eiffel tower. It will be served by no fewer than 33 electric elevators, sixteen of which will run only to the first landing, 225 feet above the level of the ground. The whole journey from the bottom to the top will necessitate four changes of elevators, and will take about six minutes, while the elevators will have a carrying capacity of 10,000 an hour. The estimated cost of this tower, which will be built of steel, is $800,000, or about twice as much as that of the Eiffel tower.

Bad Year for Horses.

Horses are suffering everywhere this year. Pink eye is prevalent in Ireland, horse sickness in South Africa and in America. Some disease is killing off horses in the northwest at an alarming rate. A veterinary surgeon says the disease is rare, and is caused by eating oats which have been damaged by rust.

FARM ANIMALS ARE HIGHER.

Increase in Values the Past Three Years While Numbers Decrease.

Washington, Feb. 14.—The annual report issued by the statistician of the department of agriculture, giving the number of farm animals and the value Jan. 1, is of particular interest, not only to the farmer, but to the merchant and consumer. The values all show good advances as compared with Jan. 1, 1899. The average value of horses shows an advance of $7.21 per head; mules, $5.60; milch cows, $1.94; other cattle, $2.18, and sheep, 18 cents per head. The aggregate value is $216,000,000, greater than a year ago, exclusive of swine.

In the past three years the aggregate increase in the price of farm animals in the United States exceeds $70,000,000. Farm horses have increased $181,000,000; mules, $19,000,000; milch cows, $146,000,000; other cattle, $181,000,000; sheep, $56,000,000, and swine, $20,000,000. This is due mainly to the return of prosperity; also to an enlarged consumptive demand for cattle, hogs, and sheep, and to an export demand for horses.

Returns from 50,000 correspondents show that Jan. 1 there were on the farms of the United States 13,537,524 horses, 2,086,027 mules, 16,292,380 milch cows, 27,610,054 other cattle, and 4,883,065 sheep. A comparison with Jan. 1, 1899, shows a decrease of 127,733 horses, 48,169 mules, 384,171 of cattle other than milch cows, which increased 302,245, and an increase in sheep of 2,768,612. No estimate is made of the number of swine, and neither will a report be issued, as the department will await the enumeration to be made by the United States census in June.

Burning Playthings.

When a little Japanese girl marries the burning of the bride's playthings is part of the wedding ceremony. The bride lights a torch, which she hands to the bridegroom, who with it lights a fire in which the toys are destroyed.

Twentieth Century Air Valve

A valuable article for steam heated houses. It is guaranteed to exhaust the steam vapor from the boiler fast as it generates and allows its circulation freely in to the radiators. These air valves are so constructed (as you will notice by the cut) that the slightest degree of heat will automatically open the valve and expel the cold air. When the fire is low the valve closes and prevents back section of cold air into the pipes. The valve can be seen in operation, costs but $1.50, and will save its cost in one season.

Good Farm Homes Cheap

The Chicago & Northwestern Railway Company owns 550,000 acres of hard wood timber land in Northern Wisconsin, which lands are now being offered to actual settlers at low prices. The lands are well located, afford railway, postal, church and school advantages. These lands should not be confounded with the pine stumpage lands now offered in this market. Land that grows pine is invariably sandy.

The C. & N. W. Tracts grow hard wood and cannot be excelled by "openings" in the country.

The logs, posts and poles find ready sale at nearby saw mills, and when the land is once cleared excellent agricultural soil is the result.

Excursions will be run to these lands on Tuesday of each week, round trip tickets being sold at... $6.71

They are for sale at my office. I should be glad to furnish printed matter and other information to all interested.

SHERIFF APPELBY AFTER BANK ROBBERS

LAST EVENING.

Has Strong Evidence In His Possession That Implicates Men Now Under Arrest—Portion of This Evidence Furnished By Train Crews From Janesville—May Be Brought Here.

Sheriff W. H. Appleby left Janesville last evening for Prairie du Chien for the purpose of bringing to the Rock county jail three men now under arrest there on the charge of carrying burglary tools. The men badly wanted here are the men alleged to have robbed the bank of Milton during the month of December.

They are James Franklin alias "Toronto Jimmie," Frank Flynn alias "Old Dad" and Lefty Fitzgerald. Evidence of a strong nature is in possession of the police here that looks most damaging. On the night of the robbery three strangers were seen in Milton by several farmers.

The description answers that of the prisoners. The arrested men are known to have been in Beloit early in the evening of the robbery. After robbing the Milton bank the thieves drove to Janesville in a farmer's rig that they stole and then abandoned at the city limits here. They then made their escape to Chicago on an early Northwestern passenger train from this city.

The train crew have furnished the police with clues that implicate the three men as being the ones that boarded the train out of Janesville on the next morning of the Milton bank robbery. Franklin, Flynn and Fitzgerald have paid Janesville frequent visits in late years. Since the robbery they have not been seen here.

Sheriff Appleby has been hard at work on this case since the robbery was committed. Now he has in his possession evidence of a most damaging nature that the men have been implicated in other bank robberies about this portion of the county of late.

Chief of Police Hogan stated this morning that from evidence it looks as though the police have the right men now under arrest. Franklin and Flynn were both sent to the state prison from Janesville for one year each with one Crowley for robbing a freight car of silk near Beloit.

RUNAWAY YOUTH WAS TRACED HERE

Chicago Detectives Notify Chief Hogan to Arrest Donald Spencer Whom
They Allege in in Janesville

Chief of Police Hogan was notified this morning by Chief of Detectives Coleran of Chicago, to arrest Donald Spencer, a runaway Chicago boy, who is now supposed to be in Janesville.

The runaway youth is fifteen years of age and is a heavy boy for his age, weighing 140 pounds. When he left home he was attired in a dark blue suit and wore an overcoat that was much too long for him.

Spencer is well known in Chicago and comes from well-to-do parents who are anxious to have him returned. It is thought that Spencer grew tired of city life and started out to see a little of the outside world. At a late hour this afternoon Spencer had not been located here.

PATHETIC SCENE AT FUNERAL

Military Escort Forbids Permit a Girl
To See Her Soldier Husband.

Kokomo, Ind., Feb. 14.—There was a dramatic incident at the funeral of Milo Harlan here Tuesday afternoon. Harlan, who was a sergeant in the regular army, died here Sunday from wounds received at Manila, passing away at the home of his grandmother. His wife and child live at Sharpsville. The wife did not learn of Harlan's death until Tuesday morning, and was not present at the church, the notice of his death being kept from her.

When the funeral procession reached Albright's cemetery, three miles south of here, the young wife stood with the baby waiting for the arrival of the corpse. She had been waiting four hours in the cold, but the Harlans refused to recognize the woman, who pleaded tearfully for permission to view the remains of her husband. She was being pushed aside when the military escort, a company of Kokomo soldiers, crowded the relatives back by force and protected the weeping wife. The coffin was opened, and for half an hour the girl-wife talked to the corpse as though it were alive. "They kept you from me when alive, but they cannot do it now," she moaned. After the interment she returned to Sharpsburg, where she lives with her parents.

DAUGHTERS GUESTS OF MISS FIFIELD

Members of The Daughters of American Revolution Held Interesting Session This Afternoon.

Members of the Daughters of American Revolution met this afternoon at the North Jackson street home of Miss Kate Fifield. A most interesting literary and musical program was given making one of the most delightful and instructive sessions of the season.

In her usual pleasing way Mrs. James S. Fifield faultlessly rendered a piano solo by Scharwenka, entitled "Ritter Und Rauber."

Miss Spencer of Edgerton, rendered two solos that brought forth well merited applause. She first sang "Mignon" by Guy D'Hardelt. Her second number was a "Cradle Song" by Kate Vanmah.

On the literary program Mrs. Josiah Wright read an interesting paper on "Noted Men From 1619 to 1650."

Mrs. A. F. Lovejoy took for her subject, "Social and Religious Life of 1650."

Mrs. E. A. Ryan presented a paper on "Personal Ancestry."

The meeting was well attended and at the close of the program light refreshments were in order.

Fifty-one members now constitute the local order of the Daughters of the American Revolution.

CIGAR FACTORY MAY LOCATE HERE

Pittsburg Men Want to Start a Stogie Factory Here That Would Employ Many Workmen.

Efforts are now being made to locate a mammoth cigar manufacturing plant in Janesville. From the start fifty men would be employed and this number would soon be increased.

A subscription paper is now being circulated among the business men of the lower City. The promoters of the factory are two gentlemen from Pittsburg, Pa. The capital stock of the proposed new company shall not be less than $30,000. What the promoters desire is that they be given rent free for five years a building the estimated rent of which shall be $500 a year.

The subscription list to guarantee the rent for five years has been placed in the hands of Mayor Victor P. Richardson. All indications point to the factory being an excellent enterprise, for the city and it is hoped that the business men will not let this opportunity pass.

Mrs. Johnson was visiting a neighbor a short distance from her home yesterday afternoon and while there was taken with the convulsions. She was a very fleshy woman, weighing 336 pounds. She has been ailing for about a year and when in good health she weighed 450 pounds.

Noted in a graveyard.

One of the largest hotels in Central America and by far the largest in Belize, Honduras, is surrounded by tombstones. As this old and abandoned cemetery was located in the center of the town, and afforded an excellent site for an hotel, the necessary permission was obtained from the proper authorities, and in less than a year a large and handsome hotel was erected in digging the foundation hundreds of skulls and bones were discovered, all of which were carefully collected and interred in the new cemetery. The hotel possesses a room in which service is conducted by a local preacher every Sunday. Last year the Battersea Vestry voted a sum of £400 for the purpose of erecting a refreshment kiosk in the Battersea Parish Cemetery, better known as "Modern Cemetery."

AINING WOUNDED IN BATTLE.

At Perfectly Simple and Comforting to Read About.

Never have the arrangements for dealing with the wounded been in so thoroughly satisfactory a condition as they are today, says the Church Family Newspaper. During an engagement and as the troops advance the wounded are sought out as quickly as may be possible, their wounds temporarily dressed, fractures temporarily splinted and any other "first aid" given that may be necessary. Indeed, in the present campaign each soldier carries with him a small "first aid" equipment in his tunic, so that he may bandage himself or temporarily arrest bleeding, or give such help to a wounded comrade. After "first aid" is rendered the wounded are borne on comfortable litters to the "dressing places," which are sheltered spots a short distance behind the line of battle—usually in the rear of the artillery. Here they are examined by the surgeons; hemorrhage is securely arrested; bullets which can be easily and quickly removed are taken away; foreign bodies and splinters of bone or shell, if loose, are removed; limbs so secured as to render transport to the field hospital easy and comfortable and anything else done which can be done with ease and rapidity. No big operation is done at these spots except in the case of limbs so shattered as to require immediate amputation. The surgeons at the "dressing places" do only what is absolutely necessary, and then the wounded are made comfortable in specially constructed ambulance wagons and transported to the field hospital.

Great French Disaster.

Twenty-five thousand French prisoners were taken by the German troops at the battle of Sedan, in the Franco-German war, on the 31st of August, 1870, while in the following day, as the result of the German victory, other 82,000 French soldiers surrendered, together with 70 mitrailleuses, 400 field-pieces and 150 fortress guns. About 14,900 French wounded were found lying on the battlefield and about 3,000 escaped into Belgium and laid down their arms. On the 27th of October, in the same year, Marshal Bazaine, after fighting and suffering several defeats in the neighborhood of Metz, surrendered with his army, including Marshals Canrobert and Le Boeuf, 66 generals, about 6,000 officers, and 173,000 men, including the Imperial Guard, 400 pieces of artillery, 100 mitrailleuses, and 53 eagles or standards.

MANY OBSERVED THE DAY

Old and Young Purchased Valentines to be Forwarded to Friends

Today was St. Valentine's day. In the usual way it was observed in Janesville. At the post office an unusually large number of letters were mailed by both old and young. At Skelly's and Sutherland's book stores the demand for valentines was larger this year than last. The small boy and girl was on hand to invest in the penny comics, while the older generation made more expensive purchases. St. Valentine's day seems to be growing more popular.

New Jewelry Fancies Which Are in Favor—A Fine Dinner Dress.

I think no one can form an idea of the infinite variety of fancy things made for women's special adornment unless the manufacturer is visited. This would be naturally a little difficult for most women, but such a visit would be a revelation to them in more ways than one. No one retail store could show even one sample of them all.

Chains, chain purses, buckles, lockets set with steel faceted brilliants, medallion pins to hold miniatures, brooches of exquisite design, fancy combs, hatpins, bangles and ornaments for the hair and an infinite number of stickpins and fancy umbrella handles in every conceivable variety. The medallion pins are quite as handsome in appearance as those found in the grand jewelry stores, and I think them preferable from one point of view. You don't break your heart if you lose them, as you would if they were real diamonds.

There is a new fancy in bangle bracelets in closely woven silver or gold wire. To this is fastened a round ornament representing an ancient silver coin with some classical fellow's head on it. Pretty silver chateleine purses have lids set with some semiprecious stone or in some cases imitations of emerald, topaz or sapphire. All the medallion pins are to hold pictures or perhaps a pressed flower or four leafed clover. Heart bangles in sterling silver enameled prettily are among the new things. The enameling is done in scrolls on the silver ground.

A new comb has six long teeth, three on each side, with an open space left in the center. Right on those six teeth lies a fancy enameled snake. Another decided novelty for the hair is a pair of outspread wings, all cut in one piece, from tortoise shell. There are holes in the wings, and through these is passed a long pin to hold it on the hair. It is intended mostly for holding a braid.

There are more beautiful fancies in the oxidized and steel and silver chateleine purses than I can tell in a day. Purses of leather with silver and gold trimmings are really works of art. I noticed particularly a greenish colored alligator purse with rehauser work in silver. The skin had been cut so as to bring a row of little horny humps along the center. The rehauser work on the silver parts was really worthy of a far more pretentious affair than a purse. Some have initials wrought of silver or gold and set with brilliants.

All flat pocketbooks are so arranged that a handkerchief and a pair of gloves can be carried. What they call tray purses are ornamented with metal, and one kind has a regular little padlock and key with a tassel and strong chain.

Many of the prettiest things are made of gun metal mingled with gold. Very many of the new belts narrow down to a mere thread in front to give the present fashionable slope to the waist.

I cannot finish mention of this assortment without speaking of the armlets of flexible gold set with many devices. One of the prettiest is a jeweled butterfly. Many others represent flowers, and the asp is another design, which always finds favor. Some of the cuff buttons are set with semi-precious stones.

I almost forgot to mention a beautiful dinner dress made for a young bride of last May. The dress itself is of fair blue chiffon, ruffled and puffed at the bottom. There is a blue tulle skirt beneath. Over the chiffon is a full gown of rennaissance lace in ivory tint. The waist is a blouse of the same materials, the front being in vest form. An American Beauty rose is placed on one corsage. There is a double box plaiting around the upper part of the chiffon blouse, and this is edged with the narrowest black velvet ribbon.

In one house I saw two beauties of bonnets. They don't call them "ducks" any more. One was of the richest black and white Peking moire, twisted up in something like a turban. There was no trimming but an aigret in front of mingled white and black held by a straw buckle. The other was an immense picture hat of prune velvet with a wrinkled crown and a large panache of black plumes on the left side. Under the brim were three full chiffon rosettes in pale blue. These rested on the hair.

PRETTY NEW COTTON FABRICS SHOWN IN THE SHOPS.

Novelties in Organdies and Dimities—Attractive Cheap Muslins—A Change in Shirt Waists—Cloth Gowns For Spring.

In the New York shops novelties in summer fabrics are temptingly displayed. To be sure, these gauzy things will not be required before next May, but the most charming patterns in organdies, dimities and even foulard silks are brought out and promptly sold. It seems early to decide on summer gowns when the temperature is down near zero, but the woman who hesitates in the organdie department, thinking she will find something prettier later, is sure to be disappointed. The choice designs are soon picked up.

THE COMING SHIRT WAISTS.

New ones are added from time to time, of course, but the first months of the new year are the harvest time for pretty novelties in cotton fabrics for dainty summer gowns as well as the golden period for reaping bargains.

A cotton fabric which is not all cotton is one of the novelties at the organdie counter. It is called mousseline and is a dainty, soft mixture of silk and cotton, something between an organdie and a batiste in texture. It comes in the prettiest delicate colors, quite plain, with a hairline stripe like a tiny cord or in white grounds with a striped border and flowered designs scattered over it.

The new dimities with a satin stripe are prettier than anything of the kind ever shown before, and, as they are of yard width and only 50 cents a yard, they are well within the reach of every one. Cheaper muslins in foulard patterns at 12½ and 9 cents a yard are really very attractive, too, but the finer class of cotton dress

A Woman's Trials

Increase from girlhood to the grave.

The question of health is always before her. Thirty years of her life is a battle with menstruation, and not one woman in a hundred escapes the ills which lie in wait from month to month.

has restored a million women to health.

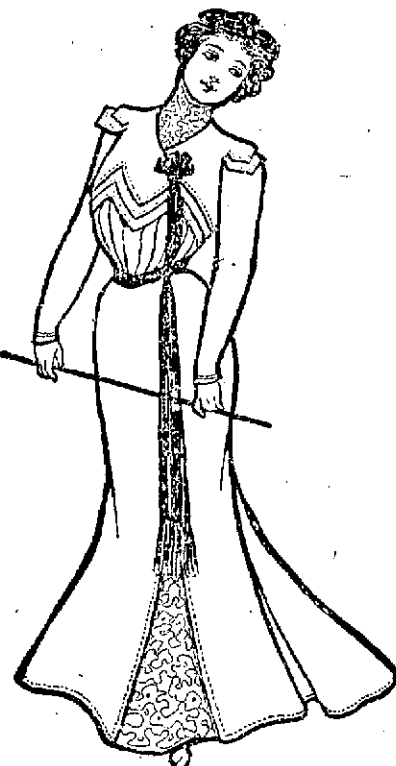

Letters from grateful women are constantly being printed in this paper.

goods will be a temptation indeed this season if the early display is a forerunner of what the next few weeks will reveal to us. Batistes of all kinds and conditions will be worn, and organdies, always charming, are here in more varied designs than ever.

Dainty fine white lawn waists with hemstitched tucks in varying widths, waists striped up and down with lace and embroidered insertions and groups of tucks, waists of embroidered lawn and all sorts of plaid, striped and figured shirtings in colors are to be seen. The one feature which stamps them as new and far prettier than the old shirt waist is the entire absence of any yokes in the back. The only yoke which is stylish at all is the one which is trimmed and applied to the shoulders, forming a little epaulet over the sleeves. The backs are tucked and plaited to correspond with the front, as many of them were made last season, and they are altogether a vast improvement on the yoke back prototypes.

The cloth gowns seen on so many of the latest winter gowns will be a distinct feature of decoration on the new spring costumes. It will form entire waists, yokes, the lower and flaring portion of the skirts and tabliers at the side or in front. This is shown in one of the illustrations, where it is used as a panel at the side of the skirt, and forms the yoke of the silk bodice, partially covered with a triple bolero of cloth. The knotted sash at the side is of crepe de chine.

These fashions and illustrations are gleaned from the New York Sun's descriptions of fabrics and garments now in the shops.

Silk finished corduroy, velvet and cloth are made up into very gorgeous skating costumes.

A Pleasing Coiffure Now In Style.

It will please those women who instinctively hate anything outre to hear that the bird's nest coiffure, so untidy and disheveled to look upon, is for good and all done away with. The hair is now gracefully and simply raised upward from the nape of the neck toward the top of the head, where it is coiled smoothly, the ends being drawn through the middle of the coil and arranged in soft, light curls with a wavy fringe on the forehead. In the evening high ospreys, small tufts of feathers, jeweled buckles or a knot of real flowers are added, and for grand occasions of course the tiara or diadem is placed slightly on one side, which gives a somewhat rakish, but very attractive, look to pretty and piquante faces, says a Paris correspondent of Vogue.

Congratulating the Bridegroom.

Apart from the letters of congratulation received by the bridegroom from his men friends, he receives not a few from the ladies of his acquaintance, and it has been asked whether young ladies should write and congratulate a young man or not. There is no rule against so doing if they have known him for some time and are constantly meeting him in everyday life, but young girls would not be expected to do this and would either congratulate him personally or not at all. The notes written by a bridegroom in response to good wishes are usually of the briefest and merely express thanks for the same.

Model For Silk or Satin Skirt.

For satin, silk or some such fabric no prettier model could be chosen nor one which more fully illustrates the mode of the moment than the one here presented. The frills are composed of billowy chiffon in a shade paler than the color of the tunic, the draped edges of which give a pleasing touch of originality. At the back a box plait is formed, with two tiny tucks stitched down it.

A Steel Range

Some people have an idea that a Steel Range is made of steel. They're not though. There never was a Steel Range that is all steel; there never will be—mostly CAST IRON—just steel here and there. Most people think of the so-called Steel Ranges as 'unbreakable' and 'unwarpable'.

WINE OF CARDUI

A LITTLE DOES MUCH.

Boone, Iowa, Dec. 14.

No tongue can tell what I have endured in the past ten years with my monthly sickness. While suffering untold agony, a friend called and recommended Wine of Cardui. I sent for a bottle, and Oh! what relief. After the first dose I began to feel better and have had no pain since.

MRS. GRACE LAMPHIRE.

WINE OF CARDUI

Wine of Cardui not only cures but it acts AT ONCE. Here is a case of ten years' standing, and yet one single dose made the sufferer feel better, and stopped the pain. The Wine goes straight to the seat of the trouble. It acts directly upon the menstrual and genital organs. Its action is not violent, and it does not force a result. It simply gives Nature that little assistance that the sufferer's system lacks. A single disorder in the feminine organs spreads many disorders all over the body, and when the Wine cures the source, all the other ills vanish as a matter of course. A woman can be her own physician and cure herself at home. Local examinations are largely things of the past—the obnoxious custom is no longer necessary. Wine of Cardui is the only perfectly safe and sure vegetable Wine made to-day for the cure of "female troubles".

A Detailed Map of Rock County . . .

Work is now in progress on a new wall map for Rock County. In size it will be 42x47 inches, mounted on cloth, and each township (of which there are twenty) will be neatly colored. The county will be represented on the scale of 1 1/2 inches to the mile and will show the location of streams, lakes, cities, villages, school houses, churches, town houses and residences, public roads and railroads. It will also locate the farms, giving the number of acres and the name of the present owners wherever it is possible to do so. As fast as the drawings of the townships are completed they are verified so that the map will be as nearly correct as possible. The work will be of great value to business and professional men and farmers, and should find place in every school house in the county. The last wall map of the county was made a great many years ago, so that this new one will fill a long felt want.

The Price is $6.00.

Only enough of the Maps will be printed to fill orders. This fact should be borne in mind by those interested. Agents will begin the work of canvassing at once; orders may be given them and may also be sent to us in care of The Gazette office.
